

APPENDIX

Definition of the response categories used in the analysis in the Article DOI XX

Statements	Definition
Statements regarding accreditation
“Accreditation is a tool for quality improvement in general practice”	Agree includes the responses agree a lot and agree, neutral includes the responses neutral and don't know and disagree includes the responses disagree a lot and disagree.
“Accreditation is a tool for external control in general practice”	Agree includes the responses agree a lot and agree, neutral includes the responses neutral and don't know and disagree includes the responses disagree a lot and disagree.
“The time consumption of the accreditation process is acceptable”	Yes includes the responses acceptable time consumption, no includes the responses too much time consumption and don't know includes the responses don't know from this statement and don't know responses from the statement “How much time do you expect to use on the processes towards the accreditation?”
Statements regarding present job situation
“The accreditation process will affect the job enthusiasm as GP”	Positive includes the responses very positive and positive, neutral includes the responses neutral and don't know and negative includes the responses very negative and negative.
“There is sufficient time to perform tasks as GP”	Always includes the responses always and often, sometimes includes the responses sometimes and rarely includes the responses rarely and never/almost never.

“Job satisfaction”

Very satisfied includes the responses very satisfied, satisfied includes the responses satisfied and not satisfied includes the responses dissatisfied, very dissatisfied and don't know.
